"I must work the works of him that sent me, while it is day;
the night cometh, when no man can work." John 9:4

Dear Partners,

March-April 2015

Greeting! I hope this letter finds you doing well and enjoying the faithful blessings that God bestows upon us each and every day.

In the last two months, I've been really busy on the roads. I drove over 6,000 miles across America, I was able to preach at Our Time Youth Conference, and I presented my burden in 11 different churches in which four were missions conferences. My support level is coming along. I am currently receiving 21% of monthly support and have 9% of promised support. God's been really good to me in providing my support and leading me to the churches that I have been able to participate in.

As I travel and present my burden, one of my prayers is that I see young people surrender their lives to serve the Lord. In all the conferences that attended, I was able to see young people surrender to preach, to full time Christian service, and to the mission field. Pray for David Velazquez (on the left) who wants to be a missionary to France and Francisco (on the right) who is praying about going to South Korea.

I want to thank you very much for all your prayers for me. I know many of you spend a good amount of time seeking God on my behalf. Here is what your prayers protected me from: It was 9 a.m. on March 29, 2015 and I was on my way to a McDonald's in Winston-Salem, North Carolina to eat breakfast before going to church. After arriving and parking my vehicle, as I entered the first set of double doors, I can see three ladies on the ground with their heads down to the ground. While watching that scene in front of me, I saw a black male-wearing all black clothing-pointing a hand gun towards two hostages he had on their knees on the right side of the store where the front counter was located. As soon as I walked into that scene and saw what that man was doing, I turned around and ran outside towards my car. In desperation, I hid behind my car just in case the man chased me. For some reason, the robber never heard me walk in nor did he see me enter the store; and I was only 10-15 feet away from him. All I know is that God protected me from being taken hostage or killed.
